

DNS relay server technical project

The system handles domain name resolution by receiving DNS queries, matching local rules, and forwarding misses upstream.

Important behaviors include RCODE handling, dig-based reproducible tests, cache policy, timeout behavior, and malformed query handling.

A release review should inspect normal query flow, upstream forwarding, local block rules, error codes, and regression tests.